Learning objectives of the subject

Analysis of the work of Antoni Gaudí in local and international contexts. Being an architect very present in Barcelona, the work of Gaudí deserves however a little attention in the academic field. We propose a greater knowledge of our own culture and our present through the study of the work of an architect who, contrary to what is usually said, was very connected with his world and the international currents of his time. The study of the work of Gaudí has to be the reason for a greater and more critical knowledge of the history of modern architecture and art and of the history and culture of the city of Barcelona. The student will develop general critical and analytical capacities starting from a particular but very close case.
